The atmosphere of this Inn and the attention paid to the little amenities of life are unique. And above all we shall never forget the pleasant hours spent on your Victorian porch.

We loved Boston and our stay here at The Bertram Inn made it even more enjoyable. Wonderful service, beautiful accommodations and delicious breakfasts.

The Bertram Inn provided the perfect touch to my daughter's wedding weekend. I know all the guests were enchanted with the Inn. And more important to me, my daughter was delighted with every detail of her wedding morning. You couldn't have been nicer or more helpful, more thoughtful or more gracious. You pampered us throughout, responded to our every request, and anticipated our wishes. You were absolutely lovely in every way. A very, very warm thanks to everyone at The Bertram Inn from the bottom of our hearts.

Breakfast awaits you in our comfortable living room with tables set in front of a crackling fire. After a busy day of work or sight-seeing in Boston, the room serves as a cozy retreat in which to relax to have a pot of tea and home-baked cookies. Season permitting, you may choose to take breakfast on our classic front porch overlooking the garden.

A stay at The Bertram Inn offers you the opportunity to experience Victorian accommodations in which Old World charm and elegance are coupled with modern comforts and convenience. We pride ourselves on our unique setting, convenient locale, and high level of service, which inspired a well-known travel magazine to praise us as a “home away from home.”

The Bertram Inn was constructed in 1907 for a wealthy Boston merchant. Outfitting his spacious, three-story home with oak paneling, a sweeping staircase, leaded glass windows and large fireplaces, he created in ideal setting for a unique Bed and Breakfast.

Our owner, Bryan Austin, an award-winning historical preservationist, not only restored the property from cellar to garret, but also established a wonderful collection of period antiques and furniture that is showcased in each of our rooms. With the help of his wife Sierra, an interior decorator, he has thoughtfully restored each room to a perfect balance of history, atmosphere, and comfort.
